With reference to the above-identified international patent application, we hereby file our response to the written opinion of 11 May 2005, which opinion includes a written statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i). A new set of claims and a description brought into conformity with the new claims are enclosed, and those are intended to replace the former versions of the claims and the description.

The invention

The present invention is concerned with the provision of emergency personnel and medical staff with an apparatus, a corresponding method and a computer program for use when preparing themselves for a rescue operation or treatment effort during an emergency situation. Time is a crucial factor for emergency personnel when arriving at the scene of an emergency situation.
